

National Animal Cruelty Investigations School

Professional Animal Control and Enforcement

MU Law Enforcement Training Institute
University of Missouri Extension

The National Animal Cruelty Investigations School offers a combination of specialized veterinary and law enforcement training. Our nationally recognized faculty of law enforcement, veterinary and animal health experts teach a systematic approach to animal cruelty investigations.

This program is designed for animal control officers and people interested in a career in the animal care and control field.

We offer the National Animal Cruelty Investigations School, but have found that there is a need for basic animal control officer training. This class is designed to give you a working knowledge of the basics of animal control work. There are a couple of practical application exercises within this training. These exercises are designed to walk you through basic skills for doing your job.
